An Encouraging Word

Many of you know that I am a faithful New Orleans Saints fan. They had a great year but will not be playing in the Super Bowl next week. I choose to align myself with the New Orleans Saints. In the National Football League, there are 32 teams. You can choose to love any of these teams. But this morning, I want you to think about the Eternal League. In the Eternal League, there are only two teams. And the team you choose to love will determine where you spend eternity.

Do not love the world or the things in the world. If anyone loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world—the desires of the flesh and the desires of the eyes and pride of life—is not from the Father but is from the world. And the world is passing away along with its desires, but whoever does the will of God abides forever.

1 John 2:15-17

The two teams in the Eternal League are God's team and the world's team. Which one do you choose to love? If you do not choose God's team, you choose the world by default. And what will happen to the world? The world and its desires will pass away. But the one who chooses God's team will live forever.

Yes, there are 32 teams in the National Football League. Many of these teams are very popular with many fans, but only one will be the Super Bowl Champion next week. But when it comes to the Eternal League, you only have two choices. You can choose to love God's team or you can choose to love the world's team. But remember, the team you choose to love will determine where you spend eternity.

Be encouraged,
