An Encouraging Word

I am writing this encouraging word from an apartment in Rome. This city is home to over four million people and welcomes millions of tourists every year. However, while we are here, we are searching for the people that most everyone tries to ignore. These are people who have fled from their home countries because of violence and dangerous circumstances. Now they are in a place where they can't find work and many are sleeping in the streets. More importantly, most are from non-Christian backgrounds and no one is seeking to share the gospel with them.

Being here has reminded me of how blessed I am. Not only has God been gracious in meeting my physical needs, but he has blessed me with many spiritual blessings, including an awesome church family where I can worship Him without fear of persecution. But the words of Psalm 67 remind me that God has not blessed me only for my enjoyment. He has blessed me so that His glory might be known among the nations; a theme that is seen all throughout Scripture.

My prayer for GVBC is that we would grow in our passion and participation of proclaiming God's glory among all peoples. While I hope that we can bring more teams to Rome to work with refugees, I also want to see more church members involved in missions in Las Vegas and in other parts of the world. God has blessed us tremendously, but He has done it with a purpose.

Blessed to be a Blessing

Psalm 67

God _____ His people so that He might be _____ by all peoples.

God wants to be _____, _____, _____, and _____.

God wants to be known as a God of _____, _____, and _____.

We must not disconnect God's _____ in our lives with God's _____ for our lives.
