An Encouraging Word

One of my great challenges as a pastor is to preach sermons that give a word of hope to "all" people who attend our church. I give one answer, but people come with different questions. In every decade of life, people have different questions. Consider:

- 20's: What will I do with my life? Who will I marry? How can I find a career that will fulfill?
- 30's: How do I cope with the demands of family? Why can't I follow through on my dreams? What has happened to all my friends?
- 40's: Why are all my high school friends doing better than me? Why is my body always sore? Wasn't it supposed to be better than this?
- 50's: Why is time moving so fast? How do I deal with my failures in life? Why is my marriage not working?
- 60's: When do I have to retire? Why do young people treat me like I'm obsolete? How will I die and when will that be?
- 70's: Does anyone know who I am? Why can't I stand without my hips hurting? Why am I still here?

The miracle of preaching is that God can take the words that I share with you from the Bible and apply them to wherever you are in life. There is no greater privilege I have than to share a word of hope with you from the Bible. No matter your age or circumstances, Jesus Christ gives you hope.

Be encouraged,
Pastor Rob
