An Encouraging Word

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. literally gave his life preaching that all people were created in the image of God and should be treated equally in all areas of life. His courageous leadership and his faith in God enabled him to lead a movement that changed the course of American history. He saw the inequalities of our nation's laws and believed it was his responsibility as a Christian to oppose unjust laws and stand for what is right and true. Below are two quotes from him that remind us of our role as Christians today.

"If any earthly institution or custom conflicts with God's Word, it is your Christian duty to oppose it. You must never allow the demands of human institutions to take precedence over the Word of God."

"Never forget that everything Hitler did in Germany was legal."

I believe we can apply the words of Dr. King to many cultural issues and laws today. Just because something is legal does not make it right or true. Just because something is accepted or applauded by culture, does not make it right or true. When human behavior or unjust laws conflict with Biblical teaching, it is your responsibility to oppose it and stand firmly on the Word of God.

Be encouraged,
 Pastor Rob
